C.

D. NEW BUSINESS:

- 1. Comments from Senior Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs Concerning Various General Studies Issues (Jim Roark):

Dr. Roark discussed with the Council creating more rigor in General Studies courses and he encourages Writing Intensive in 100 level courses.

- 2. WSTD 220 - Proposal to Include this Course in the Personal Development Category (Carol Lilly):

Carol Lilly proposed WSTD 220 - Introduction to Women's Studies, as a General Studies course.

Charlie Bicak (Eifler) moved that the GS Council formally adopt a policy to delay a vote on any GS course proposal for one month so information can be disseminated across campus and all interested parties have time to discuss the proposal. Motion carried.

- 3. JMC 100GS - Proposal to Move this Course from the Personal Development Category to the Social Perspectives Section (Keith Terry):

The General Studies Council engaged in considerable discussion with Professors Terry and Lomicky on this issue. Professor Pigott, from the Sociology Department, participated in the discussion. No formal action was taken at this time. (See the preceding motion). Professor Terry indicated that he would provide Council members with additional information prior to the next meeting.

4. Splitting Course Sections for WI Designation (Allan Jenkins - Kim Schipporeit):
The Council discussed a situation in which a department asked the Registrar's Office to split a previously approved WI course into a WI section and a non-WI section. It remained one class, with both sections taught by one instructor at the same time and in the same place. Students enrolled in the WI section were given more writing assignments than those enrolled in the non-WI section. Jenkins expressed a concern that this made WI look like punishment, and asked for a judgement by the Council on this practice.
Mark Eifler (Camp) moved that an approved WI section, offered as a WI in a particular semester, must be taught as a WI course to all students in that section.
Motion carried.

E. OLD BUSINESS:

1. Continue Assessment Review:
Tabled until the next meeting.
2. Miscellaneous Council Comments:
Jenkins discussed the GS Council hosting the First Friday Club at the Alumni House on March 6, 1998. Jenkins asked for volunteers to help with the function.
