Document Your Experience

- The Personal Job Shadow Log is for your own personal use. Many professional school applications will ask for details about your shadowing experience. By the time you fill out applications, it is often difficult to remember all the particular information necessary. Use this form to record your experiences for your own records.

- There are some programs that require shadowing and ask for verification. The Shadowing Experience Documentation Form is for those of you who may need to have the signature of the professional you shadowed for these types of programs. Actually, since you may not be certain about where you are applying, it is a good idea to have the experience documented to prevent having to go back to the professional later. If you are shadowing the same person on numerous occasions, the form does have several lines for recording dates and times.
