President-elect Louishomme discussed the key items he intended to be focus upon for the upcoming year.

The proposed budget and its challenges present significant problems to the future of the operation of UNK, and President-elect Louishomme asked the Senate to actively engage with the administration insuring that academic affairs and UNK faculty was not adversely affected by proposed cuts. He asked that the faculty attend meetings regarding the budget and to be informed by active participation in the process for the purpose of accountability.

Diversity issues will also be investigated and focused upon.

He also asked faculty senate to look into providing stronger support and mentoring relationships for newly hired faculty for the purpose of retaining them to UNK.

Supporting the ongoing work of faculty welfare to insure that there is a transparent apparatus in place that faculty are treated equitably and fairly.

Actively build on the relationships with the Board of Regents, and the other campuses (UNL, UNO, and UNMC).

D. Subcommittee for Advisory Board – Governance Document Revisions for WGE: no report (subcommittee consists of Van Ingen, Tillman, Loughrin and Louishomme). Goal is to amend Governance Document so that it reflects the merger of WGS and Ethnic Studies.

E. Budget: Van Ingen raised possibility of applying some funds to a summer on-line class, WSTD 220, using new Canvas.

F. Curricular: Updates
1. New Major: CNSS Ed Policy has some questions and requested Van Ingen attend next meeting on March 1. Members made suggestions and discussed the following questions raised by the Ed Policy Committee (answers are due Feb. 22):

   1. You state that “The program empowers students to redefine difference and prepares them to work successfully in a globally diverse and rapidly changing job market”. What is the job market for these majors? What future careers are available to a student who graduates with either of these degrees? [Louishomme will email his report on this to Van Ingen]

   2. You state “Each year UNK has lost interested students to other campuses because the university does not offer a major”. How many majors do you expect for the BS? The BA? How many students have left for this reason? Where are they going? What is the number of majors graduated at the campuses the students are transferring to? [Van Ingen will contact Scantling]

   3. You state the similar, but not the same, programs within the NU system. Are there any non-NU schools in Nebraska that offer this major? If so, how many majors do they graduate? Is this major going to be duplicated in the state of Nebraska? [Tillman noted that Wayne State has a Gender, Sexuality & Women’s Studies major – he will see how many students they have; Van Ingen will contact directors at Peru, Chadron, Hastings, Wesleyan, Doane, Creighton, Concordia, Bellview to see what they offer and how many majors/minors they have; will also contact CUCS]

   4. In schools that have similar programs (CU-Colorado Springs for example), how many majors do they graduate a year? [Van Ingen will contact CUCS; former director there is keynote speaker Abby Ferber]

   5. You state that “The number of declared minor-degree students in Women’s and Gender Studies averages 20 each year and, while the number of Ethnic Studies minors is lower, student interest is untapped.” What are these students majoring in? What other majors would be impacted by students switching to this major? [Van Ingen can find out these majors; members thought, anecdotally, that many students want WGE as a second major to support and complement their career path identified by first major, noting the “rapidly changing job market” noted in question 1; the new major could draw from Gender Studies majors but not necessarily from other department majors]

   6. In “Efficient stewardship of resources”, you state that the directorship of the two programs will be consolidated under one director”. The forms indicate that you are the director of both programs. Has this consolidation already happened? [Van Ingen will clarify that process of consolidation – directorship, board, governance document – began 2016-2017]

2. Classes:
   a) WSTD 220 staffing for Fall 2017: Two sections are scheduled: T-Th 11-12:15pm; Wednesday nights 6:30-9:20pm. Lewis will be on maternity leave in fall, so we may go back to one section. Schedule also depends on Luethke’s schedule.
