Microsoft made drastic changes in its new Windows 10 Start Menu. The new Start Menu allows you to have a central launchings location for your programs, folders, and files. It also allows you to perform other tasks. Here is the instruction to enable the viewing of special folders in your Start Menu.

1. Click the Start Menu > Settings > Personalization > Start > in the right pane select Choose which folders appear on Start > Turn on the items that you want to see in the Start Menu.

Recommendation: Do not crowd your Stat Menu. Just turn on the items that you use the most.
