The individual’s non-administrative workload assignment within the College must be equal to or greater than 0.5 FTE.

The individual’s administrative workload assignment cannot exceed 0.5 FTE.

Qualifying individuals with workload responsibilities in more than one UNK college will declare in which college they desire to be a voting member. Qualifying individuals with workload responsibilities in more than one division within the College of Arts and Sciences will be a voting member in the division with the greatest workload share. d. Meetings will be conducted according to Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised where not in conflict with the Constitution or Bylaws of the College.
Article IV: Committees

Section 1. Standing Committees.

There shall be four standing committees: the Advisory Committee, the Educational Policy Committee, the Rank and Tenure Committee, and the Oversight Committee.

A. The Advisory Committee shall:

1) Advise the Dean on matters initiated by the Committee or by the Faculty;

2) Advise the Dean of matters he or she refers to it;

3) Advise the Dean on implementation of policy;

4) Review the long term and general aspects of the College's activities, including staff, faculty and facility requirements;

5) Propose policies for presentation to the Faculty;

6) Have general review responsibility and make recommendations concerning leave of absence and sabbatical policies within the College;

7) Advise the Dean on grievances amongst the Faculty.

B. The Educational Policy Committee shall:

1) Advise the Dean on all matters of educational policy;

2) Exercise general oversight of the College's academic standards;

3) Evaluate and may recommend proposals concerning admission and graduation requirements, including changes in degree requirements, new programs, and new degrees;

4) Be authorized by the Faculty to pass on student petitions for relief from College rules, determine addition of courses, deletion of courses, and changes in course names and numbers. After acting under this authorization, the Committee will circulate its decisions in writing to the Faculty. These decisions will be considered approved unless, within fifteen working days of issuance, action is initiated under Article III, section b and c.;

5) Serve in an advisory capacity to the Dean for students who believe that evaluation of their academic progress has been prejudiced or capricious. Committee procedures shall provide for changing of a student's evaluation, upon the committee's finding that an academic evaluation by a member of the faculty has been prejudiced or capricious.
C. The Rank and Tenure Committee shall:

1) Ensure that departments comply with Regents Bylaws 4.5 and 4.6 and UNK Guidelines: Evaluation, Promotion, and Tenure, Article IV. 2, which state that each department shall establish a written set of procedures, guidelines, and criteria for evaluation for promotion and tenure.

2) Review departmental rank and tenure recommendations.

3) Work with the Dean to determine rank and tenure recommendations for the College. If a recommendation differs from the Departmental Peer Review Committee or the Department Chair, then a written rationale must be submitted.

4) Advise the Dean on other personnel matters directly related to Rank and Tenure.

If a recommendation of the Rank and Tenure Committee differs from the department or the Dean's recommendation, the Dean shall so inform the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and the Chancellor.

D. The Oversight Committee shall:

1) Advise the Dean on matters relating to the philosophy of the College as outlined in the Preamble of the Constitution.

2) Exercise general oversight to ensure that the College's policies and procedures adhere to the constitution of the College.

3) Organize and conduct elections within the College.

4) Review procedures for selection of Departmental Chairs. This may include providing oversight in balloting for reappointment of incumbents.

5) The parliamentarian is an ex officio member of the Oversight committee of the College, without voting privileges.

Section 2. Special Committees.

Special committees for holding elections, resolving grievances, addressing ad hoc issues, etc., may be created by the Dean, by the Faculty, or by the Standing Committees.

Section 3. Committee membership.

1) The Dean is an ex officio member of committees of the College, without voting privileges. The Dean will call the first meeting by the end of October to elect the chair(s) of the committee and the recorder to describe committee duties outlined in the constitution and assign any special charges if needed.
2) The members of the Rank and Tenure Committee will be tenured faculty, excluding Department chairs and College.

Assistant/Associate Deans, at the rank of Associate Professor and/or Professor. Members of the committee shall not serve during the academic year they present themselves for promotion.

3) The Advisory Committee, the Oversight Committee, and the Educational Policy Committee will have faculty as members.

4) Means of election and the number of faculty members of the standing committees will be as prescribed in the Bylaws of the College.

5) Two members from each Division shall be elected to each of the standing committees, and no standing committee shall have more than one member from a department. Department Chairs shall be considered members of the faculty, but are excluded from membership on the Rank & Tenure Committee. Terms of service shall be for two years, starting on the first day of contract for the fall semester, with staggered terms so that one-half of the faculty membership seats are elected every year. To ensure staggered terms for each College “Division,” the Advisory Committee shall be empowered to set terms shorter than two years; however, incumbent members’ terms shall not be shortened.

6) Faculty members of the Advisory Committee, the Educational Policy Committee, the Rank and Tenure Committee, and the Oversight Committee shall not be eligible for more than two consecutive, 2-year terms, or for membership on more than one standing committee at any given time.

7) Attendance at CAS committee meetings by committee members is expected. If a committee chair determines that a committee member’s absences are interfering with or preventing the committee from fulfilling its duties, then they will notify the Oversight committee of the vacancy and request that a replacement be elected. Each committee will set their standard of what attendance is expected.

8) In case of a vacancy on a standing committee, a special election will be held for the purpose of electing a replacement. If the replacement of a Committee member is necessary, the Chair of the Oversight Committee shall ask the faculty member who received the next highest number of votes during the most recent election for permission to nominate him/her to the Committee as the replacement. If that person declines, or if there was no runner-up, the Oversight Committee shall select a nominee and announce, if possible, by campus e-mail to faculty the impending election of a replacement. The Oversight Committee shall conduct the election as soon as possible. Nominations from the faculty will be allowed. All nominations must be with the consent of the candidates.

Although elections to fill vacancies must be held as stated above, when possible, the replacement of a committee member who is on a university-approved professional development leave or required absence shall be for the specific period of the leave/absence only, thereby allowing the committee member to return at the completion of the leave/absence to their seat for the remainder of their term.

9) Members of special committees will be appointed by the Dean, unless otherwise determined for special committees created by the Faculty.

Section 4. Parliamentarian
The parliamentarian should be appointed by the dean in consultation with the advisory council and affirmed by CAS faculty vote. This term is for two years. This term starts on first day of contract for the fall the semester.

The Parliamentarian acts as an advisor at all regular and special meetings of the college and the oversight committee on matters of parliamentary procedure. Matters of parliamentary procedure include issues such as the order of proceedings, the priority of motions, the timeliness of motions and debates, and the vote necessary to sustain motions. The Parliamentarian does not issue rulings on matters of parliamentary procedure. The dean, or other presiding officer, is the only person who can issue a ruling on a matter of parliamentary procedure.

A person holding the position of Parliamentarian should have a strong working knowledge of the provisions of the Constitution and Processes and Procedures of the college, and of Robert’s Rules of Order. Familiarity with the history, traditions and customs of the college is also helpful in carrying out the duties of the Parliamentarian.

Article V: Office of the Dean

Section 1. Responsibilities.
The Dean of the College shall provide educational leadership; be the officer primarily charged with the administration of the College; serve as intermediary between the College and the University; be the presiding officer at Faculty meetings; appoint a parliamentarian after consultation with the Advisory Committee; report to the Faculty at regular business meetings on the status of past College policy; serve to resolve grade appeals with the aid of an appointed appeals committee if deemed necessary.

Section 2. Selection of the Dean, Associate Deans and Assistant Deans.
Appointment of the Dean, Associate Deans, and Assistant Deans shall be recommended to the President and the Board of Regents by the Chancellor, following procedures specified in the Bylaws of the Board of Regents. At least every third anniversary year of appointment, the Advisory Committee shall make recommendations to the Chancellor or designated representative concerning continued appointment of the Dean, Associate Dean, or Assistant Dean.

Section 3. Temporary vacancy.
In case of incapacitation or other temporary vacancy in the office of the Dean, the Advisory Committee shall confer with the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs on the appointment of an Acting Dean.

Article VI: Departments

Section 1. Definition

A department is an academic community of a professional discipline and interest and an administrative unit of the College. Subject to the jurisdiction of institutions that have overall responsibility for the University of Nebraska at Kearney and in conformity with the policies of the College of Arts and Sciences, a department shall determine its policies and programs through means adopted by the department. The Chair of the department or the departmental staff may make recommendations to the Dean and Faculty of the College concerning the welfare of the department or its relations to other departments. Before making such recommendations the Chair of the department shall consult with the departmental faculty. Where the recommendation of the Chair differs from the advice given by the departmental faculty, the Chair shall so inform the Dean. Meetings of the departmental staff may be called by the Chancellor, the Dean, the chair, or by a majority of its members.

Section 2. Chair.

1) The Department Chair shall be responsible to the Dean for departmental administration; be the department's official representative in all matters except those delegated to other members of the department; and serve as intermediary between the department and other individuals and units of the University.

2) Chairs shall be appointed by the Board of Regents, upon recommendation of the Dean, after appropriate consultation with the departmental faculty and concurrence by the Chancellor and the President, for a term not exceeding five years but eligible for reappointment. Term lengths may be 3 to 5 years. The dean will determine the term length in consultation with the department. Prior to recommending the reappointment of a chair, the Dean shall take a closed ballot of the department members on the question of reappointment of the incumbent.

3) In case of a vacancy existing or pending in a department chair, the Dean will request the department to provide suggestions and the name or names of candidates, a request which shall be fulfilled through means adopted by the department. In the academic year or semester before the chair’s term ends, the department should decide whether they want the current chair to continue for another term. If a new chair is selected, the chair elect should be mentored by the outgoing chair.
Section 3. Council of Department Chairs and Directors.

1) The Council of Department Chairs shall consist of Deans, Assistant and Associate Deans, Chairs and Directors of all departments and programs of the College. The Dean and Assistant and Associate Deans of the College, and the Directors of divisions or programs administered by the College, shall be non-voting members of the Council. In the event a member must be absent from a Council meeting, a representative to the Council meeting may be appointed by the absent member.

The Council shall:

a.) Advise the Dean in matters relating to administrative policies and procedures within the College of Arts and Sciences and its departments or other administrative units. These advisory duties shall not supersede those delegated to the Advisory and Educational Policy Committees as defined in Article II, Section 1.

b.) Make recommendations to the Dean in matters relating to University administrative policies and procedures which affect the College of Arts and Sciences and its departments or other administrative units.

c.) Provide a forum for discussion of mutual problems and concerns relating to the administration of departments or other units within the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Council shall convene at regular intervals to be determined by the dean at the beginning of each academic year. Any member may request the presiding officer to include an item in the agenda of a regular meeting. Special meetings of the Council may be called at the request of the Dean, the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, the Chancellor, or any member of the Council.

The Dean is the presiding officer of the Council. In addition to chairing meetings of the Council, the Dean shall be responsible for:

a) Establishing a meeting time for the Council and calling special meetings at the request of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, the Chancellor, or Council members.
b) Receiving agenda items for Council meetings and distributing agendas to Council members.

Article VII. Supra-Departmental or Inter-Departmental Units.

Supra-Departmental or Inter-Departmental units, such as schools, divisions, and interdisciplinary programs, may be established. Channels of administrative communication shall be defined when such units are created.

Article VIII. Amendments.

Section 1. Proposal of Amendments.

Amendments to the Constitution or Bylaws of the College may be proposed by the Advisory Committee, or by at least twenty Faculty members who provide the amendments to the Advisory Committee. In either case, amendments must be provided to the Faculty no later than ten working days before a regular Faculty meeting or a special Faculty meeting.

Section 2. Approval of Amendments.

A. Proposed amendments to the Constitution will be circulated in writing to the Faculty by the Advisory Committee at least five working days prior to the next regular Faculty meeting or a special Faculty meeting. Voting will be by distributed ballot either at the meeting or by subsequent paper mail or electronic mail, as determined by the Oversight Committee. A simple majority approval of the Faculty voting on the question will be necessary for the resolution of the question.

B. Proposed amendments to the Bylaws will be circulated in writing to the Faculty by the Advisory Committee at least five working days prior to the next regular or special faculty meeting. Voting will be by distributed ballot either at the meeting or by subsequent paper mail or electronic mail, as determined by the Oversight Committee. A simple majority approval of the Faculty voting on the question will be necessary for adoption.

Article IX. Approval of Policy

“Policy” under this Constitution is defined as any substantive rule that governs College operations, arises under the jurisdiction of one or more of the standing committees of the College, and is not normally contained in the College Constitution or Bylaws. Any member of the College with voting privileges has the right to propose policy. In the case of the creation or change of College policy, the quorum to recommend and voting percentage to pass must be at least 50% of the College faculty.

Article X. Acceptance of the Constitution.

Majority approval of the Faculty voting on the question will be necessary for acceptance of this Constitution, which will become effective upon promulgation by the Chancellor of the University of Nebraska at Kearney and the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska.
Section 1. Election of faculty to standing committees.
The Oversight Committee shall organize, conduct, and/or monitor the election processes of all Standing Committee seats as required by the Constitution and in accordance with the following Bylaws.

A. General: The election of Standing Committee members shall be conducted during spring semester in two steps: division faculty shall nominate representatives in the primary election, and the division faculty shall elect the representative for each division. In the primaries, the Dean or designate shall submit to the faculty members of each division a list of all eligible division faculty members for each committee. This will consist of all full-time faculty members who would be expected to serve the full term of the position (e.g., are not imminently retiring). Any faculty member that has received a nomination and whose willingness to serve has been confirmed by the Oversight Committee shall be placed on the election ballot. The elections shall be conducted in sequence: in even numbered years the Advisory Committee and Rank and Tenure Committee elections will precede, but in odd numbered years the Educational Policy Committee and Oversight Committee elections will occur first.

B. Faculty Residency: For purposes of distributing ballots to eligible voters, a faculty member shall be considered a member of the department in which the larger portion of that person’s teaching load is assigned. Departmental membership, for the purposes of elections, shall be required of all personnel. A faculty member whose load is evenly divided between two departments or whose assignment is difficult to determine because of load fluctuations shall declare department affiliation for purposes of voting and holding office.

C. Nomination Forms: The Oversight Committee shall distribute Nomination Forms to eligible voters providing information regarding eligibility of nominees. The Nomination Form shall provide a space for the written consent of a nominee in order for that person to be included on an Election Ballot. E-mail or other electronic communication may be used in lieu of a written nomination form and nominee consent.

D. Nominees: After the results of the nomination process have been determined, the Oversight Committee shall create and distribute an Election Ballot that lists the names of all consenting nominees as candidates for open seats. Voters rank the candidates for a given office by preference on their ballots. If a candidate wins an outright majority of first-preference votes (i.e., 50 percent plus one), he or she will be declared the winner. If, on the other hand, no candidates win an outright majority of first-preference votes, the candidate with the fewest first-preference votes is eliminated. All first-preference votes for the failed candidate are eliminated, lifting the next-preference choices indicated on those ballots. A new tally is conducted to determine whether any candidate has won an outright majority of the adjusted voters. The process is repeated until a candidate wins a majority of votes cast. Elected members shall assume their duties at the beginning of the academic year and shall serve for two years.
E. Validity of Election: The Oversight Committee is responsible for ensuring that all elections are fair and valid. Concerns about the validity of an election should be directed to the Oversight Committee. When the validity of an election is challenged, the Oversight Committee shall decide whether the election results should stand or be invalidated.

F. Invalid Election: In the event the Oversight Committee determines that an election is invalid, the faculty members whose Standing Committee positions are being filled by the election will continue to serve until a new election is conducted.

G. Corrective Election: In the event that the Oversight Committee determines that an election is invalid, the Oversight Committee will conduct a new election as soon as possible in accordance with the constitutionally specified procedures.

Section 2. Standing Committee size.

a) The Advisory Committee shall be composed of two faculty members from each division.

b) The Educational Policy Committee shall be composed of two faculty members from each division.

c) The Rank and Tenure Committee shall be composed of two faculty members from each division.

d) The Oversight Committee shall be composed of two faculty members from each division.

Section 3. Committee procedures.

1) Each Standing Committee will have a Chair and a Secretary elected by its members.

2) The Standing Committee Chair will plan and run the meetings, as well as be the spokesperson and contact for the committee.

3) The Secretary of the Standing Committee will take the minutes and report them to the Chair of the Committee. Minutes must be made available to the membership of the college. Committees will send their meeting minutes to the dean’s office for publication and archive upon approval.

Committee documents from past years are made available to the current committee members via an electronic storage system.

4) The Standing Committees will only meet and vote on action items if a quorum exists. For the Advisory, Educational Policy, and Oversight Committees, a quorum is defined as 75% of the committee, or 6 of the 8 members. For the Rank and Tenure Committee, a quorum is 100%, or all 8 members must be present.
5) The Chair of the Advisory, Educational Policy, and Oversight Standing Committees does not vote, unless it is to cast the deciding vote. A deciding vote is a vote which breaks or creates a tie; motions require majority votes to be enacted, and thus motions are not enacted when a tie is created.
