2. Data that is not available in the Factbook should be requested from the UNK Institutional Research office at least one month before the Self Study is due. Requests received after this point in time may not be fulfilled by your Self Study deadline.

3. Department persistence and graduation rates are tracked using fall full-time first-time Freshmen (FTF-F) cohorts. A student is counted for a department based on their primary major in their cohort term only. UNK Institutional Research can report persistence and graduation in two ways:

   a. If students persist at/graduate from UNK: Count students as persisted or graduated even if they change departments after their cohort term.
   b. If students persist at/graduate from their Cohort department: Count students as persisted or graduated if they maintain a major in their cohort department after their cohort term.
