

HSCI 475 – Internship in Health Science Intent to Intern Form

HSCI 475 Overview

UNK students pursuing a degree need to complete an experiential learning requirement consisting of on-site health related experience. HSCI 475 satisfies this experiential learning requirement. Students enrolled in HSCI 475 are required to complete 40 hours per credit hour. Students can take up to 5 credit hours of HSCI 475 per semester.

Site Supervisor Responsibilities

To provide the student intern with a broad educational experience within the healthcare environment, the supervisor is encouraged to:

- Assign the student activities pertinent to the professional development of the student, which challenges the student to progressively learn, and provide a variety of appropriate tasks within a healthcare environment.
- Inform other employees of the student intern's presence and role responsibilities.
- Include the student intern in trainings and meetings that would challenge the student and broaden their educational experience.

Student Assignments

- Documentation of hours
- Company Profile
- Interview with Provider (of choice)
- Site Meeting with Instructor, Student and Supervisor (Zoom)
- Project or Research Presentation
- Student Evaluation and Reflection
