

Letter to Recognized Student Organizations

From: Renae Zimmer, Director of Student Engagement, UNK

Dear Officers and Advisors of Recognized Student Organizations at the University of Nebraska at Kearney,

Congratulations on your commitment to a recognized student organization at UNK. There are a host of benefits for getting connected and involved during your collegiate career.

The University of Nebraska at Kearney has developed several services and opportunities that are intended to assist student organizations pursue their goals. Any RSO may, on terms and conditions, have privileges too:

- Utilize the Student Engagement Software Presence. Trainings on the software are offered by the Office of Student Engagement. Please contact office to set up a time.
- With permissions of the Director of Student Engagement, use the Nebraskan Student Union and Student Engagement office for meetings. With permissions of the Director of Student Engagement, utilize equipment, supplies, etc.
- Conduct approved fundraisers on campus
- Apply for funding through UNK Student Senate and the Programming Board.
- Participate in several university sponsored campus activities including student organization fairs, Blue Gold Showcase and more.
- Opportunities to publicly display your organization and its events on campus.
- Dedicated student organization advisors who work with you on goal setting, strategic planning, problem-solving and personal growth.
